JACK JOHNSON MOBBED.

A-hostile reception was accorded Jack Johnson in Chicago on October 18, arising out of the abduction charges against the boxer. Hundreds of people surrounded him in the heart of the city, and attempted to mob him. The crowd threatening to hang and shoot him, he jumped from his snotor car and fied for safety to the premises of the National Bank. He managed to escape by means of a rear exit. The women's clubs in the city are up in arms against Johnson, and are using every endeavour to have him driven out of Chicago. The Mayor is being overwhelmed by demands from citizens to close Johnson's

> THE TRANSPLANTATION OF ORGANS.

Dr Alexis Carrel, who has just won the Nobel prize of £7,800, is the young American scientist of French extraction who has done such marvellous work in the way of transplanting the organs of dead animals into the bodies of live creatures which had more need of them. So far Dr Carrel has carried out experiments with the lower animals only. But his discoveries open up a vista along which the logical imagination of his compatriots in Franco has been eager to proceed, Dr Delhet, for instance, forecasts a day when the surgeon will have in his surgery s little cupboard, in all probability a refrigerator, which will be a pleasant collection of arteries, joints, arms, legs, and so forth, that have been borrowed from those who stood in no further need of such fleshly adjuncts. In that day Harleystreet will be able to do so many things that if you are rich enough you may become a most unconscious ble immortality. But it is probable that for some years that state of things will be reserved in its special form for poets and people of that:

SIR OLIVER LODGE ON LIFE AND THE THEOLOGIAN.

Sir Oliver Lodge has a very lucid article on the problem of the origin of life in the Contemporary Review. "The business of a biologist is to study the phenomena exhibited by matter under the influence of life," he says. . It is not his business to know what matter is. or to know what life is, nor even to understand the way in which one interacts with the other. He need not discuss the ultimate is flooded with organic life now. Texnature of their interaction; that may be restrial life originated in ways unknown, the business of the metaphysican, or it may and at times unknown; it may have entered be a problem unsoluble in the present finto relation with matter gradually, and state of our ignorance. Anyhow, the solely in the past, it may perhaps be ininteraction of life and matter occurs, and carnating itself likewise, here and now; the interaction of mind and matter occurs. but, so far, the process has never been There is no question about that : it is an observed. affair of common experience and is conspicuous to anyone who considers his own it under human observation. Perhaps it powers. We do not in the least under- will occur some day in a laboratory. If shut our eyes to manifest fiets in order though it will be a fact extraordinarily

Though a child may stroke a piece of steel with a magnet, and may go on in any generating magnetism without limit by simple acts of movement the production of magnetism is really due to certain molecular and ethereal processes.

Lord Kelvin, Lord Rayleigh, or anybody. "A third thing to remember is that the power of humanity in the physical world is strictly limited to movement, i.e., to muscular action, stimulated and guided by brain and nerve processes. John Stuart Mill pointed out clearly enough, and other philosophers may have stated it beforethat all that man and animals can do, of their wn volition, is to move a piece of matter from one place to another. Everything else that happens in consequence of that movement must depend on the properties of the matter itself, or on things which happen beyond our knowledge and control. Volta moved zinc and copper into acid, and an electric current resulted. The current was guided by wires through liquids, and chemical phenomens of greatinterest occurred. Faraday moved a conductor .....and the result has been the dynamo. Graham Boll arranged a coil of wire and an iron plate in the vicinity of a ranguet, and made a telephone. Madame Curie mixed together certain chemicals separating them and combining them in accordance with a well thought out scheme, and the result is madium. She may be said to have manufactured radium, or discovered radium, or whatever the proper phrase is ; but the radium was there all the time. IF LIFE RISCLES. "Let us assume, for the present—as I myself assumed in the first chapter of Manand the Universe, in Life and Matter and elsewhere that a positive result in so called spontaneous generation will some day be attainable, and that a low form o life may come into being under observation; and let us consider what it will really mean when such a thing happens, All that the experimenter will have done will have been to place certain things together-to submit, for instance, chemical compounds, to certain influences. If life results, it will be because of the properties of those materials, and of the laws of interaction of life and matter, just as truly as when a seed is put into the ground. It will be a step not of a wholly dissimilar kind. The nature of life will not be more known than before.

TO CATCH LIFE IT. "The position may be stated thus :-Life has undoubtedly originated on this planet somehow. There was a time when the whole earth was molton, and purely morganic-many million years ago certainly perhaps a thousand million years ago. Common observation shows that its surface.

The effort now being made is to bring stand them, but they are there; and to so, it will be a matter of extreme interest, to grope after some recondite theory is difficult to establish. We shall then begin not a sensible attitude. The laws con- to examine the properties of living matter necting life, and mind, and matter, may under very favourable conditions; and belong to an aspect of the universe distinct | discoveries may be expected." But all that from those which the biologist is studying; humanity will have done will have been they are more likely to be appropriate to to place materials together and watch the

THE THEOLOGIAN'S POSITION.

"As to the theological bearing of the attificial production of a thing does not whole discussion, so far as it can be supexhaust, or even explain, its nature | posed to have any-and on the practical Laboratory control gives us a better chance I side it must be regarded as deserving of consideration-I have dealt with the problem in the first two chapters of Man and the Universe; and it may suffice here to indicate the bare outline and beginning of that discussion. Life in its ultimate elements and on its material side is such a simple thing; it is but "a slight extension of known chemical not fully understood by Sir Isase I ewton, an i physical forces; the cell must be able to respond to stimuli, to assimilate outside materials, and to sub-divide; though the origin of protoplasmic activity itself as yet cludes the laboratory workers: But will the theologian triumph in that admission? Will be therein detect at last dam which shall stem the torrent of scepticism? Will be base an argument for the direct action of the Deity in mundane affairs on that failure, and entrench himself behind that present incompetence of labouring men? If so, he takes his stand on what may prove a yielding foundation.

DANGEROUS NEGATIONS. "Antece lent life can certainly prepare . suitable habitat, but perhaps a life receiving preparation may be produced in other, at present unknown, ways. In an early stage of civilisation it may have been supposed that flame only proceeded from antecedent flame, but the tind r-box and the locifor-match were invented nevertheless Theologians have probably learnt by this time that their central tenets should not be founded, even partially, upon nescience, or upon negations of any kind," concludes Sir Oliver Loige; "lest the placed progress of positive knowledge should once more under-mine their position, and another discovery have to be scouted with alarmed and violent enathemas."

REINFORCING THE MEDITER-RANEAN FLEET,

The first step towards strengthening the Mediterranean Fleet will be taken to-day, says a London paper of Nov. 4, by the paying off from the First Cruiser Squadron at-Chatham of the battle cruiser Inflexible, Captain R. S. Phipps Hornby. The Inflexible will be recommissioned tomorrow by Captain A. N. Loxiey, lately serving on the staff of the Inspector of Target Practice, for service as Hagship of Admiral Sir A. Berkeley Milne, Commandersin-Chief of the Mediterranean Floor, The Eulexible is one of the seven ships serving in home waters detailed to reinforce the Mediterranem Fleet, and she is to replace the armoured cruiser Good" Hope, Captain R. F. Phillimore, which remains in the Mediterranean until the arrival of the Inflexible, and will then, after the transfer of the Commander-in-Chief's flag, roturn to England to pay off at Portsmouth preparatory to recommissioning with a reduced nucleus craw for service in the Third Fleet. The present erew of the Inflexible will be sent, to the Naval Depot and Royal Marino Headquarters on the ship paying off, and she will be manned by a new crew! The Inflexible is the first warship of the "Dreadhought" type to be selected for foreign service, and will be the first of the quartette of buttle emisers which are to form the principal portion of the Mediterranean Flect in July, 1913. The Indomitable, a sister ship to the Inflexible, will shortly be detached from service as Jagship of the Second Cruiser Squadron to proceed to the Mediterranean to join the flag of Admiral Milne, and the Incircuible and Indefatigable will follow next

The armoured aruser Lancaster will o-day be paid off at Sheerness on her return from her fourth commission in the Mediterranean' Floer, in which she is about to be replaced by the more modern and more powerful armoured cruiser Warrior, Captain J. A. Fergusson, of the Second Cruiser Squadron. The Warrior is at present at Dovomport, giving leave before departure for the Mediterranean. The Lancaster will be recommissioned at Sheerness to-morrow by Captain W. H. D'Oyly, of the armoured cruiser Carnarven, for service in the Fifth Cruiser Squadron, and will be manuel by a nucleus erew from the Devenpert Depot.

A DISASTROUS MARRIAGE. Ex-Naval Officer Shot By French Wife.

Mr Paul Witting, who was a British naval lieutement, and recently commanded a formedo-boat stationed at Malta, has been shot by his wife at their farm at Nabeul, in Tunis. He made the acquaintance of a young and pretty French singer, with · 1510 | whom he fell in love, and in spite of the opposition of his father, who disinherited him, Mr Witting resigned his commission and married her. Fer name was Jeanne

Although disinherited by his father he had a fortune of about £28,000 of his own, and with this he bought a farm. Nothing, however, could for long prevent the light ways of her old life from coming back to the singer. Her conduct gave rise to numerous scandals and her husband pardoned her many times, but at last he took steps for a divorce. At the time he made his decision Mrs. Witting was from home, but on her return, learning that he intended to get a divorce, she became violently angry. There was a quarrel, and she ran into the garden. Suddenly she took a revolver which she carried, opened the window, and fired at her husand as he sat at dinner.

The shot went wide, and Mr Witting rushed out to disarm her. As he came she tred a second time, and he fell dead.

It is now well established that so far as the European markets are concerned, what they really want is bean oil and not beans themselves. Vladivostock may continue to export beans to Europe, but things are bound to change when it is put in a position to manufacture bean oil for export purposes. In the first place, the freight on beans costs incomparably more than that on bean oil. In the second place, beans are exposed to the danger of "swenting" in their passage through the tropics. In the third place, bean cake (the residue, left after the futty substances, have been expressed) is in greater demand in the Orient than in the West, and consequently fetches a comparatively better price. The manufacturers of bean oil can afford to sell their output cheaper by this margin. In the fourth place, even with the use of labour-saving machinery, the cost of production of bean oil in the West must compare unfavourably with what obtains in the Far East, particularly in South Manchuria where any amount of Chinese fabour is available at ludicrously low wages.-" Manchuria Daily News."

THE BULGARIAN ARMY. Home-Trained Force.

Among the by-products of the war now raging in the Balkana, by no means the least entertaining have been the claims advanced in various quarters on the gratitude of the victors, whose successes are simultaneously attributed to the inthence of most diverse schools of military At a time when the Germani, who might with justice be described as Turkey's war toachers, appear anxious to disavow all responsibility for Turkish defeats and mismanagements, in Paris systematic efforts are being made to place Bulgaria under French military ægis and to establish a confraternity of arms between the Republic and the leading inember of the Bulkan Loague.

Even elsewhere able writers have not hositated to describe the present struggle as a match between French and German military art, and that in a way very unflattering to the latter.

FEW OFFICERS TRAINED IN FRANCE. This generalisation, as most generalisations of that kind, when more closely examined will be discovered to rest on very slender foundations. Those who know most about the conditions in Turkey will find a satisfactory explanation of Turkish reverses not in the bad quality the German seed, but in the barrenness of the soil where it was planted. That this is so is best established by the noble fruits which that same seed has borne in Japan. Neither is there more substance in the pretensions that French influence has moulded the Bulgarian army. The number of Bulgarian officers who have been educated in French military schools is extremely small, and tho highest rank held by a French graduate is that of major," excepting three or four officers belonging to the Commissariat department.

As for the French armament of the Balgarian artiflery, most people feem to ignore that nearly half of the Bulgarian guis are of Krupp manufacture. Besides. it is a most point whether, in the actual circumstances, Schneider guns in Turkish hands would have in the least affected the issue of the battles fought.

In France also they are apt to forget that the acquisition by Bulgaria of these Schneider guns was the enforced condition of some recent loans, and that the prices paid for them do not form a very edifying"topic. MERCANTILE BANK OF Bulgarians camot view with complacency a wrangle which is bound to produce bad blood between two great countries when the collaboration of a ....£ 562,500 united Europe is indispensable if the war RESERVE FUND .....£ 365 000 is to be speedily ended and European peace preserved. This unfortunate controversy, however, affords a favourable opportunity for discussing the question whether, and to what extent, Bulgaria owes its military efficiency to extrancous influences.

> THE ST. PETERSBURG RECALL. The central fact which must at ence be noted is that during the last quarter of a century there has not been one foreign officer in the employ of the Bulgarian

. For a period of about seven years following the liberation of Bulgaria, all the higher and many of the other commands were hold by Russian officers. While this state of things lasted the Bulgarian army was in every respect a replica of the Russian military organisation, even the professional terminology in use being in Rassian. The Military School of Sofia, whose mission it was to train the future Bulgarian officers, in no way differed from similar Russian establishments; the professional staff consisted almost entirely of Russians, and the system of teaching blindly followed Russian models: The few Bulgarian officers who at intervals were sent shroad to complete their professional training invariably found their way to St. Petersburg, among these INTERNATIONAL DANKING being Generals Savoff, Radko Dimitrieff, and Ivanoff, the three leading heroes of the present war, and several other high officers who now command divisions.

After the union of Bulgaria with Eastera Roumelia in Soptember, 1885, a sudden change supervened and opened a new chapter in the history of the Bulgarian

On the eve of the Servo-Bulgarian war the Russian Government, in order mark its disapproval of Bulgarian policy, recalled all its officers from Bulgaria, and the young native lieutenants and captains unexpectedly found themselves in the position of generals. Many of the then improvised leaders continue to this day to occupy posts which were thrust upon them twenty seven years ago, the DEPOSITS RECEIVED, fixed for one intervening period bringing higher grades, but no higher commissions. The call of periods, at rates which may be ascertained the Russian officers from Bulgaria, which was intended for a punishment, in reality proved to be a boon in disguise; it liber-MAILS and TRLEGRAPHIC REMIT- ated the Bulgarian army from the thral; don of Russian routine and taught it the great lesson of self-reliance, which was further impressed by a successfully-waged

GERMANT'S CLOSED DOOR. The decade which followed witnessed the complete reorganisation of the Buigarian military forces, and with this dis-PURCHASE and SALE of Stocks and appeared the last vestiges of Russian professional domination, The Military School of Sosia now became truly a national institution, and all the younger generations of Bulgarian officers have been trained under exclusively. ## Nervous Exhaustion, Neuralgia, Sleeplessness—

The fact that Mrs. Taylor did not give up her work, and did not go for a change, is clear proof. Phosferine prevented the nervous breakdown which her doctor said was certain unless she gave up her duties. Mrs. Taylor is not the sort who gives up easily, although she was worn to a standstill with neurasthenia and sleeplessness, and realising that neither change nor, rest was possible, she concluded the only certain way to keep going was to supplement her vitality with Phosferine. The actual benefit Mrs. Taylor' experienced within a few hours exceeded even the relief she knew would result from Phosferine, every nerve centre in her system began to retune its activity, thus promoting her recovery with daily increasing rapidity. Now that all traces of nervous disorders are expelled, and she sleeps sounder and eats better than ever, Mrs. Taylor urges other exhausted workers not to give up, but employ Phosferine to generate a new supply of nerve force and feel for themselves how capable, vivacious, and happynatured this new energy makes everyone.

Completely done with.

Mrs. K. E. Taylor, 369, Goldhawk Road, Chiswick, writes:-"The benefit I have received from Phosferine is almost incredible. I had been suffering for months from Neurasthenia, everything was a burden to me, head mins and body pains were constant, I could not eat, neither could I sleep. I felt utterly ill and wearied out, and after struggling on for some time, I was told by my doctor there was nothing for it but to give up my situation or to go away for a change. For many reasons, either would have been my last wish. I remembered Phosferine had done me so much good 14 years ago in a case of neuralgia and weakness following maternity, and so I started your remedy again. I consider it has egain worked miracles for me. I can eat and sleep well, and am able to perform my duties, which comprise not only household affairs, but brain work, with case and pleasure."-April 24, 1912.

SANATOGEN

You want for your "Nerves."

Such is the modern physician's advice to victims of nervous disorders.

In his book on "Nerve Energy," Dr. Claude L. Wheeler says: " "Many people have, through ignorance of the consequences, become victims of a habit of taking drugs and stimulants. To such people Sanatogen offers"a form of force that may be drawn upon without danger. Sanatogen, in a perfectly normal way, creates new tissue and nerve cells. It builds up, reconstructs and renders stable."

Similar statements have been made by over 16,000 practising physicians, who certify to the unique value of Sanatogen in overcoming such nervous symptoms as:

Palpitation of the Heart Depression of Spirits Morbid Anxiety Irritability of Temper Easily-induced Physical Nervous Dyspepsia and Mental Fatigue.

Among the many famous people who have publicly testified to the value of Sanatogen is the Right Hon. Sir John Gorst, Privy Councillor to the King of England, who writes:- "Sir John Gorst-wishes to say he has long been acquainted with the great merits of Sanatogen. has taken it with excellent results, and when necessary will certainly take it again. It was also used by a daughter of his with great benefit."

" If you, who read this, are run down or sufferling from any of the symptoms mentioned, do not seck the false aid of drugs and stimulants, but begin at once to rebuild and revitalise your nervous system by means of a course of Sanatogen. It is sold by all Chemists.

Write to-day for a Free Copy of "The Art of Living," by Dr. Andrew Wilson. This interesting book tells you all about Sanatogen, and also contains a great deal of valuable advice on health topics. Write at once, mentioning this paper, to the manufacturers of Sanatogen. Messrs. A. Wulfing & Co., 6, Kiukiang Road, Shanghai.

Dr. C. W. Saleeby, well-known physician, writes: -Sanatogen is a true tonic because it is an actual relations to the nervous system and its

> Such are, briefly stated, the obligations of the Bulgarian Army to foreign countries. The total number of Bulgarian officers who, after graduating in the Mili tary School of Sofia, and spending five or six years in active service, have been sent abroad cannot exceed, 200, or about 7 per cent. of the entire corps of officers in active service.

The preponderant majority of the Bulgarian officers have been educated exclusively in Bulgaria. It is they that form the backbone of the army and bear the brunt of its professional training.

The manner in which this latter work has been performed reflects the virtues and the qualities of the entire nation, thoroughness forming the distinctive trait. No"attempts have been made to strike original lines, and the experience of all the military nations has been put under contribution. The progress of the great European armies is closely followed, and hardly a day passes but some improvement is borrowed from one quarter or another.

The presiding principle, however, has always been to adapt what is borrowed from abroad to local conditions; not to mimic but to assimilate, and in that sense one can say that the Bulgarian Army has

From his earliest days as a politician, Mr Lloyd George has held the views that the "masses" were more or less and in many respects tyrannized. by the "classes." In realising his socialistic dogmas he believes that he will bring about a more equal distribution of wealth. He is apparently oblivious or blind to the fact that but for the "classes" the vast majority of the "masses" would be nothing more nor less than chaotic confusion. So fertile a mind as that of Mr. Lloyd George, has, doubtless, many schemes by which he is certain of affecting his great "leveling" process, but the greatest—at least the one he makes most noise about—is his land reform plan. ### [Correight.] WAR. THE

SERVIA AND CONCEN TRATION OF TROOPS.

THE SITUATION IN AUSTRIA

THE ARMISTICE QUESTION. LONDON, Dec. 2.

The improvement in the situation continues, although the signature to the armistice has been postponed for 48 hours to enable a delegate from Greece, which insisted on a separate representation, to obtain the necessary authority to sign the agreement, which is considerably whittled down, and now amounts to a stipulation on both sides to remain as they were, while the belieged towns will be again provisioned and the blockade of ports and Islands temporarily raised.

GREECE TO TAKE PART IN NEGOTIATIONS.

The appearance of Greece on the scene is particularly noteworthy, and is believed to betoken a growing mistrust between Greece and the rest of the Allies, which Bulgaria is representing. The armistice will be fixed for eight days, but may be prolonged for another week.

The real tug-of-war will begin with the peace negotiations proper. It is stated that the Allies' demands include an indemnity of 48 millions sterling.

THE SUGGESTED CON-FERENCE.

A message from Paris states that the .. suggested Conference of Ambasadors has not yet taken official shape, but it is understood that while the Triple Alliance agrees to it in principle, it raises difficulties in regard to the place of meeting, favouring Brussels, The Hague, or another neutral capital. It is pointed out, however, that this would Involve the appointment of special plenipotentiaries as distinct from realdent Ambassadors, which would entirely change the character of the .. proposed Conference, and make it a real Conference, at which the Balkans might claim to be represented.

MASSACRE AT DEDEAGATCH

Prior to the arrival of the Bulgarian troops at Dedesgatch, the place was occupied by the Bulgarian C. noral Comitajis, who perpetrated a dreadful massacre-the' victims including some Christians - numbering fully 500. The Turkish quarter was completely pill sged.

"GENERAL DESTRUCTION."

The Times Salonika correspondent says that Macedonia is being dreached with blood, the innocent in that country being left to the tender mercies of Comitajis, and the blood stained auxiliaries of the Bulgarians. An enormous amount of indiscriminate alaughter is proceeding, notably in the district of Ayrethissar, Blahomodan hands likewise joining in the general destruction.

and emphasised that the exchange of views by the Powers was progressing. Though he could not particularise, he could say that they were proceeding in a conciliatory spirit, and with every prospect of success. Of course, he added, the claims of the Powers would only be determinable when terms were arranged by the belligerents and known. They would then be able to say how far the terms were in touch with the spheres of interests of others, and if, as it was hoped would not be the case, insurmountable difficulties existed, then the Powers directly interested must assert claims. "This also, applies to our Allies, but if they, in asserting their interest, were attacked contrary expectations from a third side, their existence threatened, then we as a faithful ally would firmly and resolutely place ourselves on their side, and should fight by the side of the allies and defend our own position in Europe. I am convinced that in such a policy we have the whole people at our back.'

In the circumstances the Government do not consider it necessary that applications for such permits should be

Mr. Bowley minuted: I suggest that the Government be asked to inform th Board when any new permit is issued and The complainant said he was at present when any old permit is renewed, giving particulars of locality and conditions, so that members may have an opportunity of inspection.

Dr. Fitzwilliams minuted: The Hon. Director of Public Works states that he is unable to see how the issue of such permit, can endanger the supply (9-7-12), and this after the last sentence of the head of the Sanitary Department minute tions was angeted for nearly the least now my hands and forers, in spite of the constant attention of doctors, herbalists and chemists. The places began by small watery pimples. They burst, became long cracks and often blod. I developed two large sores on the back of my right hand and on my right wrist. These became raw as if skinned and wist of the shilling pieces. The irritation was so bad that I constantly seratched until they poured with blood, and I was exhausted with the agony and cried bitterly with the pain. "I had grown firmly convinced that my case was quite hopelessly incurable. My right hand for months looked so terrible that I was compelled to wear a glove night and day, and it irritated me so that I tore it till the blood poured from several places at once. I was distracted with the ceaseless once. I was distracted with the ceaseless had been sore and painful for years gradually but surely healing up. They are absolutely out surely healing up. They are absolutely ended now through the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, which I applied constantly, binding up the worst places.

"I can do my work now like any other "I can do my work now like an attention of doctors, herbalists and chemists, binding up the worst places.

"I can do my work now like any other woman, but before I dreaded even to think of it. I felt relief after the first two or three washes with the Cuticura Soap and applications of the Cuticura Cintiment, and now, after using only one and one-half boxes of the Cintiment my hands are soft and white. The Cuticura Soap we use daily, it is so soothing to the skin. Cuticura Soap and Cintiment cured my hands when doctors said I merer should get them healed."
